

HAS NOT AFFECTED THE LOCAL MARKETS

Meat Investigation Is Not Changing
Local Conditions or

"Down with the meat trust. The people are being robbed!" This is the popular slogan of today. The upward tendency of the prices for one of the staple articles of diet for the American people has caused a clamor for investigation and reform that cannot be still.

The subject is one that for the time being threatens to make even the over-popular topic of politics look for a quiet place to pass away, and the weather, which since Noah landed from the ark, has been used to open a conversation, has gone on a long vacation.

Just start a debate on the subject and take the side of the trusts. If you except give thanks to a merciful providence which stays the hands of the victim of your torments. The ire of the American public is aroused and a light to the death is promised against the octopus, which squeezes the people and extracts from them, not their life-blood, perhaps, but the money which they have toiled for and laboriously secured.

Just who is to be blamed for the cost of living is a thing which will undoubtedly be brought out in the government investigation. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has advocated a boycott of meat and hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country have ceased to eat meat for a period of time until the prices shall be less exorbitant.

Janesville is interested in the meat problem and Janesville people are watching the outcome of the investigation.

Meat is a staple article of diet in many homes and to have prices so high that it is prohibitive would undoubtedly work hardship with many. No movement has been started in this city to boycott the meat dealers here and the general opinion is that there will be none, as prices here have not ranged as high as in the communities where the people have stopped eating meat. Opinions by Janesville proprietors of meat markets are given below.

Wilson a Piker.

"Secretary Wilson is a piker. His statement that many butcher shops made an average of from 45 to 47 per cent profit is preposterous. Any butcher who could do that would continue in business for a few years and then retire. We would all be rich if that were true. The meat-handlers in this city make an average of from 15 to 18 per cent profit. They count on making 18 per cent, but if they get that much they think they're lucky. These were the words of W. W. Nash this morning in speaking of the agitation over the high prices paid for meat. With regard to whether the boycott prevailing in other cities had taken form here, he did not think any such thing had been started here or his business had shown no falling off in volume, although possibly it would be felt later.

The general statement of the rest of the men in the meat business coincided with Mr. Nash's in that they had felt no change in the volume of their business. Said one: "Of course there may be some who will cut out eating meat for a while, but the men who work hard all day, six days in the week, want something once a day that is hearty and satisfying. You will find that most of the people who are doing the buying are the ones who will pay prices which, compared to the cost of production, are double those charged for meat. If they want the best kinds of meats they will have to pay high prices for them."

W. T. Seefeld of the firm of Seefeld and Raubacher, said that their business had not suffered because of the anti-meat agitation and that he did not think it would. "Prices in this city," he said, "are lower than in places where the movement is the strongest. We cannot charge less as the prices we have to pay the packers are the same as ever."

Predicts Higher Prices. A representative of a Chicago packing house, who was in one of the shops while the proprietor was being interviewed, spoke up and said: "It is an injustice to the dealer in the small towns to say that his profits are forty-seven per cent. That may be true in the large cities among the shops who cater to wealthy people, but their expenses are enormous and they have to have the profit or go out of business. And it is the class of people who trade at these shops who are doing the hollering. 'The effects of this agitation and talk will do more harm than good. Of course prices may drop for a time now, but I say now, and I think you will find what I say is true, that the prices charged for meat this summer will be higher than now. The farmers are beginning to fear a sudden drop in prices and to keep from losing on the deal will bring in their animals and the supply will be so over the demand that the prices will go way down. Later on, when there is a demand for meat, there will be a shortage, as the animals which should have been kept to be sold then will be gone, and prices will soar so high that beside them, the flight of an aeroplane will seem like the first attempts of a baby robin."

Extravagant Appetites the Cause. Another salesman for a packing firm said that the demands of the people were largely responsible for the high prices. "They are cultivating appetites for the fancy cuts of meat and do not care for the other parts which are just as good. Plato beef which is as nutritious as steaks, can be sold at six cents a pound and if a dealer gets an over supply he has a time to dispose of it way below cost. I killed dinner which used to be popular in many families, have been scratched off their menu lists for something else which will appease their extravagant appetites."

WILL SPEND THEIR HONEYMOON ABROAD

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Jeffris Sail on February 2 for Naples, Italy—
Janesville People at Wedding.

Guests at the wedding of Miss Gladys H. Osborne and Frederick James Jeffris, which took place in the Francis I. room of the Congress hotel at Chicago at half-past four o'clock Wednesday afternoon and a brief account of which appeared in yesterday's issue of the Gazette, were received by Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrison Osborne, parents of the bride, Miss Louise Osborne, and Mr. and Mrs. David K. Jeffris. The bride wore a hand-embroidered gown of white bronchello, trimmed with Irish lace. Her hat was of silver cloth covered with bird-of-paradise feathers and she carried a shower bouquet of lilacs-of-the-valley and orchids. Her sister, Mrs. Frank Ramsey Elliott, as matron-of-honor, was gowned in yellow bronchello and a hat of black decorated with yellow bird-of-paradise feathers, and carried a round bouquet of yellow roses. Little Grace Jeffris, niece of the groom, and Elizabeth Corey stretched the ribbons. E. J. Stevens was best man and Rev. Frank Crane read the service. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffris are to depart immediately for New York and will sail on February 2 for Naples, Italy. Their tour of the continent and British Isles will last three months and they expect to return to this country about the middle of May.

"Among the guests" at the wedding were the following present and former Janesville people: Mrs. T. M. Jeffris, daughter and son; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jeffris and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jeffris and son; Miss Susan Jeffris, Miss Jennie Keller, Miss Cleland, Miss Agnes Griebel, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wheeler, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Wheeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Behrendt.

NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH IN SOUTH BELOIT TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY

Property Owners There Are Taking Precautions Against a Flood—Beley Shops Nearing Completion.

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 27.—The Salvation Army is at its best power in Beloit. Captain Buyer, who is in charge, lately came here from Milwaukee and is proving a live wire in the activities of the army. Last night there was a musicale in which many of the army and others of the city had a part.

Work on the third story of the Beley machine shops is going on in spite of the unfavorable weather. There is much talk about other factory buildings, although little is under way.

Several years ago when there was a lot of water in Turtle Creek, property adjacent to the old Brooks mill race was badly flooded. To avert trouble this year from that source the authorities have caused the end of the flume under the old mill to be removed. This will let the water flow in the natural channel.

Property owners in South Beloit are fretting about the prospects of a flood when the snow thaws. Great dikes have been built to keep the water of the creek from running into the flats and they will probably serve their purpose. The new Catholic church in South Beloit, known as St. Peter's, is completed and will be formally dedicated next Sunday with Bishop Muldoon as one of the speakers.

BASKETBALL GAMES ON FRIDAY EVENING

Contests in This Line of Sport Have Become Most Popular

This Winter. Two basketball games in the city tomorrow evening will give the fans a chance to witness good playing in that line of sport. At the high school the Janesville high school squad will meet the strong team from Stoughton high school. The contest promises to be fast and exciting and the interest taken in it is lively, as the football teams of both schools met on the gridiron at Stoughton and the Stoughton players showed themselves to be experts in that game, losing to Janesville by a very close score. Naturally the Janesville players are looking for as good qualities in their opponents in basketball and have made ready by constant practice for a fast game.

The game will be called in time to allow the Stoughton players to catch the 8:50 train home. At nine o'clock at the Bank building, just after the high school game has been finished, the Cardinals are to play the five representing Co. G of Madison. The latter squad is one of the best playing quintets in the Capital City and will make the Cardinals hustle some to win. The Cardinals have been undefeated in their games this season and intend if possible to keep up their good record. The Cardinals' quintet will be chosen from the following: Bennett, Mathews, Birch, Langdon, Cunningham, Booth, Beers and Robertson.

TO RACE HORSES AT GAS POND TOMORROW

Speedy Steeds Will Take Part in Meet on Ice at Gas Pond Friday Afternoon.

There was horse racing on the field at the gas pond yesterday afternoon, but only three horses were put over the course as the snow was soft and rather slushy, hence the competition was not quite as spirited as on former occasions. South Jones' horse pitted against "Dutch Girl," driven by J. G. Schell, was the fastest on the ice.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, if the weather continues as it has been today, there will be racing in which all of the horse-owners who have had their horses out this winter will enter. There are about nine steeds who will take part in the sport and as the track admits but four abreast, they will be divided into two classes. To give added zest and sport, George Charlton and John Sheridan have hung up two whips, for the winners in each class. Ira Fisher will act as starter and Mr. Charlton and Mr. Sheridan will be the judges.

DR. METCALF IS TO TALK AT PRESBYTERIAN MEN'S CLUB

January Meeting of the Church Organization is to Be Held Tomorrow Evening.

The January meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood will be held tomorrow evening at 6:30, to be followed by an address by Dr. Walter Metcalf of Chicago, on the "White Plague." Dr. Metcalf is a former resident of this city and has been making a special study of tuberculosis for some years past. He is president of the National Anti-Tuberculosis association. All the men of the church are urged to be present.

WHEN DINNER COMES

One Ought to Have a Good Appetite.

A good appetite is the best sauce. It goes a long way toward helping in the digestive process, and that is absolutely essential to health and strength.

Many persons have found that Grape-Nuts food is not only nourishing but is a great appetizer. Even children like the taste of it and grow strong and rosy from its use.

It is especially the food to make a weak stomach strong and create an appetite for dinner.

"I am 57 years old," writes a Tenn. grandmother, "and have had a weak stomach from childhood. By great care as to my diet I enjoyed a reasonable degree of health, but never found anything to equal Grape-Nuts as a staple."

"When I have no appetite for breakfast and just out to keep up my strength, I take a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts with good rich milk, and when dinner comes I am hungry. While I go without my breakfast I never feel like eating dinner. Grape-Nuts for breakfast seems to make a healthy appetite for dinner."

"My little 13-month-old grandson had been very sick with stomach trouble during the past summer, and finally we put him on Grape-Nuts. Now he is growing plump and well. When asked if he wants his nurse or Grape-Nuts, he brightens up and points to the cupboard. He was no trouble to wean at all—thanks to Grape-Nuts." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pinks.

"There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

MISS KATIE FRICK, CONVERSING.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS VOTED $2,000 TO AID IN THE EDUCATION OF THIS REMARKABLE DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND GIRL.

Philadelphia, Pa.—An interesting and pathetic experiment is in progress at the Mount Airy Institute for the deaf and dumb. A child is being educated there who can neither see nor hear and consequently cannot speak. This remarkable task is being undertaken in the case of little Katie Frick. Katie, deaf, dumb and blind as she is, has so far progressed in her education as to be able to write letters home to her parents. It seems therefore that the action of the legislature of the state of Pennsylvania in granting the sum of $2,000 for the education of the afflicted child will prove a wise one.

Katie's education has not reached its present stage by any easy pathway. Miss Julia A. Foley, who has devoted herself to the training of the child deserves a hero medal for the patience and untiring interest she has taken in little Katie.

To begin the story at the beginning, Katie had some slight traces of speech, for the deprivation of the three senses came to her when she was 6 years old—caused, it is said, by prolonged suffering at Atlantic City. But in the succeeding years the blind and deaf child lost most of the knowledge of speech that she had acquired in her infancy and when received at Mount Airy Katie could say but a few words. The fact that she had not been born with her affliction, however, was a great help to the teachers. "The little girl at least knew the meaning of simple words and this lightened the task considerably."

Up to the present time the chief object of the child's teaching has been to perfect a rapid, effective means of communication through the use of the manual alphabet.

In time an effort will be made to train the vocal organs so that the lost speech may be regained. When Katie can answer questions asked her in the manual alphabet, with spoken words, the education of the child will have progressed a long way.

CRUEL FATHER WAS SENT TO JAIL FOR SIX MONTHS TODAY

Charles Boehm, Who Assaulted His Wife with a Chair Last Night, Gets Just Deserts.

Charles Boehm, a teamster residing at 1020 South Washington street, whose brutality has made a terrible parody of life for his wife and family, was arraigned in municipal court this morning on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Mrs. Marie Boehm, fourth guilty and sentenced to six months in the county jail.

The attack that caused his arrest, which was the climax of a long series of brutal assaults, occurred last night about 8:30 upon his return from downtown. Although he had signed the pledge, he was intoxicated upon his arrival and without the ghost of a pretext, choked his fifteen-year-old son, and then knocked Mrs. Boehm down and pounded her with a chair.

"I do not care if I kill you right here," was his exclamation during this inhuman attack.

After venting his senseless rage on his long-suffering wife, he drove her and his six children out of the house, the arrest then followed.

Boehm, who has been arrested before, seems to be a reversion to a more primitive type of man. When aroused, either by anger or drink, he resembles a wild animal. One of his daughters, who now helps to support the family, is alleged to have been crippled for life by a blow which she received at his hands while she was a small child. On numerous occasions he has assaulted and threatened his family, but until now they, bound by the old German idea of parental duty, have refused to make a complaint.

He has consistently refused to allow Mrs. Boehm, who is his second wife, to communicate with her relatives in Germany, and at one time they became anxious because of her long-continued silence, but were later reassured through the police that she was still alive, if not happy. Some years ago he was held as chief actor in a stabbing affray, but managed to prove self-defense and was released.

"We can have peace at home now," said his daughter, Miss Anna Boehm, after sentence had been pronounced. "We can get along without you."

Her father's spirit can best be shown by the remark which he made when he was locked up, which was to the effect that he no longer had a wife and that it would be best for Mrs. Boehm to leave her home before he finished serving his sentence.

MISS EVA TURNBULL AND ERNEST NELSON

Were Wedded At the Home of the Bride's Parents On Washington Street At High Noon, Wednesday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Turnbull, 447 North Washington street, was tastefully decorated in pink and white for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Eva Mae Turnbull, and Ernest F. Nelson, which took place at high noon yesterday. As a prelude to the ceremony, Mrs. Leola Caldwell, a cousin of the bride, sang "Oh Promise Me" to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Cora Mohl. At the conclusion of the solo, the wedding party took their places beneath a large white floral bell which had been hung in the parlor.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Stella Turnbull, and Mrs. J. A. Barless, and was gown in white veiling, cut princess style and trimmed with bridle and pearl parasol. The bridegroom was in white and Miss Stella Turnbull was in white and a gown of shell pink. H. W. Shawson and J. A. Barless attended the groom and Rev. John Reynolds read the ceremony.

Following congratulations a sumptuous dinner was served, buffet style, to sixty relatives and friends, under the direction of Mrs. Philip Rutter.

Included among the beautiful gifts were handsome pieces of silver, cut glass, china, and linens just held in position in the watch factory at Elgin, and the groom is employed at the Fair store in Chicago.

The couple took their departure on the 6:15 interurban car and will be at home to their friends in Chicago after Feb. 15.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. William Turnbull of Kenosha, Mrs. Edward Mattice of Footville, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Shawson of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Thayer of Beloit, and Mr. Wolcott and Miss Hazel of Magnolia.

SUITCASE EXCHANGE JOKE ON SALESMEN

Travelingman Got Value Containing Baby's Clothes and Nursing Bottle and Mrs. Seegmiller of Beloit, Cuff and Collars.

"I'd give a dollar to see that fellow when he opens the suitcase and I'll bet he's some young travelingman, too," said Promoter George Seegmiller of Beloit, laughing heartily as he told the story of how his wife's suitcase was exchanged by mistake for another on the interurban car arriving here at 9:45 this morning.

Seegmiller came to Janesville today with Mrs. Seegmiller, who was on her way to Marquette with two children. The suitcase which was "lost" contained baby clothes for two, and two nursing bottles. The change of traveling cases was not noticed until after the car had departed, when the infants became hungry and began to clamor for food.

Mrs. Seegmiller opened the suitcase to satisfy their wants only to find a collection of gentlemen's cuffs and collars. Now, stare in some forms is considered a requisite article of diet, but not in the way it is employed in the laundering of linen, so they, means of appealing the appetites of the youngsters had to be sought. Mr. Seegmiller says that he does not care for the collars and cuffs, as he has enough of them at home, but as the children need the wearing apparel he would be willing to exchange suitcases with the unknown gentleman if he will leave his at the interurban waiting rooms in this city.

ALVA HEMMENS WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Local Agent for C. & N. W. Ry. Was Struck by a Train Yesterday Afternoon—Injuries Are Serious.

Early yesterday afternoon, while checking some cars in the C. & N. W. freight yards just west of the old roundhouse, Alva L. Hemmens, Janesville agent for the road, was struck by a freight train and seriously injured. The train, headed by engine 46 and in charge of Conductor Charles Murphy, was moving slowly at the time Mr. Hemmens was on the track and was struck. Fortunately he was thrown from the track and escaped being ground to pieces under the wheels.

After the accident he was placed in a carriage and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. George W. Sligham, 110 Lincoln street, where Dr. Palmer, the company's physician, made an examination. It was found that Mr. Hemmens was suffering from a badly wrenched shoulder, that one of his ribs was fractured and that he had sustained internal injuries which cause intense pain and which render it impossible to make a more complete examination.

For a few days it will be necessary for the injured man to lie absolutely quiet and until a minute examination can be made the extent of his injuries will not be known.

Mrs. Hemmens, who is at present in Florida, has been notified of the accident.

IT WOULD SEEM SO.

COUNCIL WILL HOLD A SPECIAL MEETING

Mayor Carlo Calls Extra Session to Discuss Advisability of Securing Additional Legal Aid.

Mayor W. F. Carlo yesterday afternoon issued a call for a special meeting of the common council to be held this evening for the purpose of "considering the advisability of securing extra legal assistance in looking after the city's interest in all cases now pending against the Janesville Water Company."

This extra session will make a total of three regular meetings and two special meetings held this month, an unusual record. Contrary to the general impression, the aldermen receive compensation for the regular meetings only.

LOOSE CASH IN THE RURAL MAIL BOXES

Will Be Ignored by Carriers After February 15, in Accordance With Latest Department Orders.

In view of the extent to which the practice of placing loose coins in boxes by rural patrons has grown and the delay in the delivery and collection of the mail resulting therefrom, as well as the hardship imposed on rural carriers as an incident thereto, the department has been compelled to take some remedial action and Postmaster Valentine has received from Fourth Assistant Postmaster General P. V. DeGraw a notice to the effect that, commencing February 15, proximo, rural carriers will not be required to collect such coins. Patrons are advised to enclose such coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in a piece of paper, or deposit them in a coin-holding receptacle, so that they may be easily and quickly taken from the boxes, and carriers will be required to lift such coins, and, when accompanied by mail for dispatch, attach the requisite stamps.

BEEF MAN IS ON THE GRILL

HIGH OFFICIAL OF PACKING COMPANY BEFORE GRAND JURY.

30 WITNESSES SUBPOENAED

Employees of Armour, Swift and Morris Firms Are to Be Summoned Before Inquisitorial Body—Wade Ellis Leaves Washington.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—The first witness called in the investigation of the methods of the beef trust was C. C. Snow, secretary and treasurer of the National Packing Company, through which concern the government hopes to trace the alleged collusion among the packers.

The first witness called was C. C. Snow, secretary and treasurer of the National Packing Company.

The report that the National Packing Company would be the object of the first attack by United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims and his assistants was confirmed when Mr. Snow was taken into the jury room as the first witness.

The calling of Secretary Snow of the National Packing Company as the first witness of the grand jury inquiry created consternation among those who had expressed themselves as confident that the investigation would come to naught.

The fact that he was subpoenaed and compelled to bring with him so many of the company's books that three boys were needed to carry them, convinced those in touch with affairs that District Attorney Sims is in earnest.

Thirty Others Are Served. Subpoenas for about 30 other witnesses were served by deputies from the office of United States Marshal Lloyd. Some of these were for employees of the downtown office of the National Packing Company, while others were taken to the stock yards and served on employees of Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and Morris & Co.

A. L. Hayward, general superintendent of Swift & Co., is said to have been one of those served. He was notified to appear before the grand jury this afternoon and to bring with him the specified books that the government believes will shed light on the methods of the alleged trust.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Wade W. Ellis, assistant to the attorney general, will arrive in Chicago to-day to assist District Attorney Sims in the investigation of the beef trust.

BOARDING HOUSE IS WRECKED.

Three Occupants Killed, Four Injured When Wall Fell on It.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 27.—Three men are supposed to be dead and four are dying here as the result of the falling of the wall of the building of the Freiberg Whiskey Company upon a boarding house occupied by Mrs. Julia Bennett at 428 West Fourth street.

James Brannigan, Sam Hudson, Arthur Brooks and another man, her boarders, were caught in the wreck and all efforts to extricate their bodies have failed. Mrs. Bennett, her sister, Mrs. Emma McClary, Joseph Cassinella and Miss Alma Ray are in Mercy hospital and the doctors say that none of them can live.

The Freiberg Whiskey was burned in December, and a high wind blew over the wall which was left standing, as it was deemed safe.

RIOTERS BATTLE WITH CLUBS.

Twenty Girls Hurt and Four Arrested in New York Strike.

New York, Jan. 27.—Clubs and blackjacks figured in a riot participated in by upwards of 100 persons in Brooklyn following an encounter between striking girl shirtwaist workers and non-union girls.

The field of the fray, when cleared, revealed more than a score of battered and bleeding participants, while four young women were in police cells, one of them accused of attacking a deputy sheriff and striking him down with a blackjack.

Police reserves of two stations had to be called out to quell the trouble, which attracted a crowd of 2,000 to the scene.

NOTES HIS OWN DEATH PANGS.

Blood Specialist Dies from Poison Contracted in Operation.

New York, Jan. 27.—Dr. Nicholas Collore, a highly successful blood specialist, living in Brooklyn, died of blood poisoning after he had known for three days that he was doomed to death and had spent the time in studying his own condition and in discussing theories and methods of combating the disease with a brother blood specialist.

Dr. Collore contracted the disease while operating on a woman two weeks ago.

Jumped 503 Feet to Death. Spring Valley, Ill., Jan. 27.—Louis Branstetter, aged 50, an Italian miner, committed suicide by leaping into the shaft of No. 3 mine where he worked for over twenty years. His body struck the bottom of the shaft, 503 feet below, and was mashed to pulp.

Marshall Shoots Farmer. Spring Valley, Ill., Jan. 27.—While quelling a street fracas in Cherry City Marshall Peter Delphino shot John Hergan, a farmer, through the body while the latter was running to escape arrest. Hergan is here in a hospital in a dying condition.

The New Middy Sweater.

An ideal sweater for vachting, golf, tennis or any other sport is this new model styled "the middy." The large sailor collar and open throat effect make it very becoming and at the same time comfortable when indulging in any exercise. The colored band which edging the collar and comes down the front gives it a smart touch of individuality. This sweater is cut so as to give the drooping shoulder effect now so fashionable.

What Keeps Him Back. Many a man would climb higher up the ladder of fame if he didn't spend so much of his time trying to keep some one else from doing it.

CONCISE NOTES ON DAY'S HAPPENINGS

Elections Committee Hears Contested Cases—Dakota Editors Meet Other News Notes.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—The elections committee of the House of Representatives today began hearings in the contested election case of J. Mitchell Galvin, Republican, against Representative Joseph F. O'Connell, Democrat. Mr. O'Connell was elected in the Tenth Massachusetts district by the extremely narrow margin of four votes, and charges of fraudulent count figure in the contest. The Tenth district includes a part of the city of Boston.

South Dakota Editors. Sioux Falls, S. D., Jan. 27.—Several scores of South Dakota editors were present when the annual midwinter meeting of the South Dakota Press association was called to order by President C. M. Day this morning. This number was considerably augmented by the arrivals during the day. The law of libel, the cost of printing, and the province of the country newspaper were the subjects of some of the papers presented at the opening session. The convention will close tomorrow.

Kansas Bar Meeting. Topeka, Kan., Jan. 27.—Leaders of the Kansas bar and bar gathered here today for the annual meeting of the State Bar association. The feature of the opening session was an address by the president, James Given of Lawrence, on the subject of "Three Departments of the Government." Roscoe Pound, of Chicago, delivered the annual address before the association tonight. The proceedings will continue over tomorrow, concluding in the evening with the annual banquet.

Republicans Banquet. Iowa, Mich., Jan. 27.—Acceptances received by the Gridley Club of Iowa indicate a notable attendance at the club's annual banquet tomorrow night. All of the four Republican candidates for the gubernatorial nomination have been invited. Curtis Guild, Jr., ex-governor of Massachusetts, is to be the principal speaker.

Tour of World. Cincinnati, O., Jan. 27.—Melville E. Ingalls, chairman of the board of directors of the Big Four railroad and one of the best known railroad men in America, will depart tomorrow on a tour of the world. According to Mr. Ingalls' arrangements the tour will occupy at least two years.

$1,000,000,000 COPPER TRUST.

Merger of Butte Properties Announced—Anaconda is the Nucleus.

New York, Jan. 27.—By the consolidation of the Boston Consolidated Copper Company and the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company by the Utah Copper Company, which is controlled by the Guggenheim Exploration Company, and by the action of the directors of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company in deciding to call a meeting of stockholders for the purpose of ratifying a proposition to increase the company's capital stock from $30,000,000 to $150,000,000, practically the final steps have been taken in the formation of the second greatest industrial combination in the United States—a corporation second only to United States Steel—which embraces all the copper companies and have a combined capitalization of at least $700,000,000 if not a billion dollars.

The man behind the throne, the man who has worked unceasingly to bring about this huge combination of capital and industry, is J. Pierpont Morgan.

HEAR SERMON OR LOSE SALOON.

Unique Punishment Meted Out to Closing Law Violators.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 27.—Local saloonkeepers who violate the closing laws will hereafter be compelled to keep their saloons closed until they can produce a letter from a minister certifying that they have attended church on Sunday morning and remained throughout the service. Such was the ruling of Mayor Shank in two cases before him, and he announced he will deal with other violators in like manner.

BLACK HAND IS AFTER BARBER.

Millionaire Match King Receives Letter Threatening His Life.

Toledo, O., Jan. 27.—J. C. Barber, millionaire match king, is in receipt of an anonymous letter, bearing the Black Hand symbol threatening him with death, unless he ceases scolding Senator Charles Dick, whom Barber has challenged to an open debate, declaring Dick is unfit for re-election. The letter has been turned over to the federal authorities.

Medal Presented to Peary.

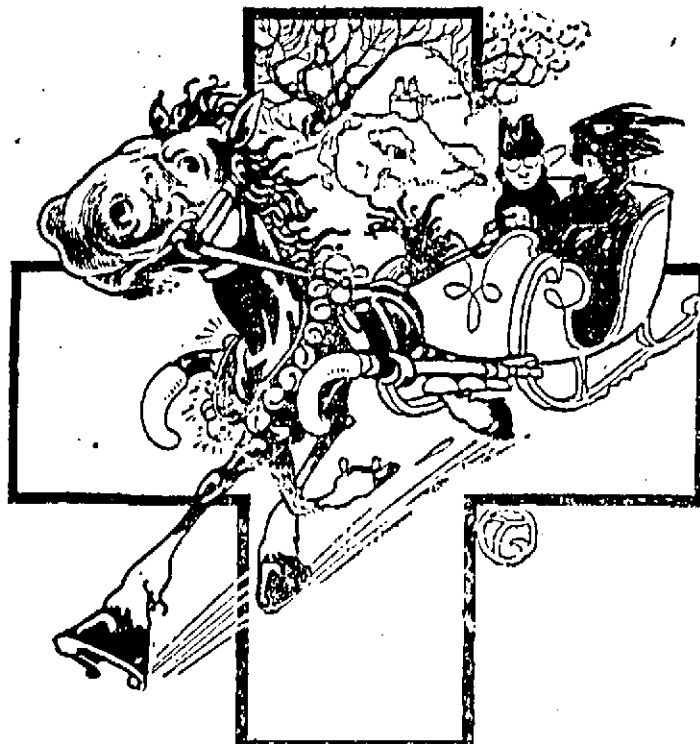

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Commander Robert E. Peary, U. S. N., and Prof. Thomas C. Chamberlain of the University of Chicago were the guests of honor at the annual banquet of the Geographic society of Chicago at the La Salle hotel last night. Both of them were presented with the Helen Culver gold medal for achievements in geographic research and exploration, and the discoverer of the north pole made a brief address.

Shotgun Kills Wife.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Henry Dewey, wife of a wealthy farmer, was killed by the discharge of a shotgun, which she accidentally knocked against a chair.

Already Here.

The editor of a metropolitan journal was lunching the other day with friends in Boston when some one began talking shop. "Do you suppose," asked this individual, solemnly, "that the time will come when poetry will cease to be written?" "It's here now," promptly replied the editor.

SLEIGHING.

Oh! pity those who never know
The bliss of gliding o'er the snow
With youth and love tucked in the seat
And jodels ringing through the street.

Lots of them, fine dressy garments, good styles and excellent workmanship. Equal to those offered generally in season at $15.00 and $17.50.

ONE GOOD THING.

There is, after all, one good thing about a severely cold winter. It lessens the opportunities for skating on thin ice.

The Sun's Vapors.

"Chromosphere" is the name given to a layer of incandescent vapors in the sun, enveloping the entire photosphere. The chromosphere consists chiefly of hydrogen and an element known as helium. The so-called "prominences" are due to projections of hydrogen that are shot up to enormous altitudes, with velocities exceeding 149 miles per second. The name chromosphere is given to this solar envelope on account of its beautiful rosy hue.

No Safes Needed There.

An enterprising American undertook to establish a trade in burglar-proof safes in the Malaga (southern) district of Spain. There was nothing doing, for burglars are unknown in that part of Spain.

WOMAN'S PAGEThe Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

No matter how much it may accomplish, any work which spoils the worker for sane, happy converse with his fellow men, is evil.

The man who comes home at night nervously unfit to be friends with his wife and children, no matter how many luxuries he may shower upon them, is not a good provider. For he is failing to provide them with a more important thing than luxuries—a peaceful home atmosphere.

The woman who so wears herself out by her devotion to her household cares that she cannot be pleasant and amiable, is acting in a selfish rather than an unselfish way.

The young man and woman who throw themselves into their work with self-exhausting fervor fancy they deserve praise for their ambition, but if they come home at night, as so many of them do, unable to be agreeable or profitable housemates, they certainly don't deserve praise at all.

Are you any one of these people?

If you are it may interest you to know in addition to the hindrances I have already brought in that you are taking something that does not belong to you.

You are stealing energy for your work.

Doubtless you thought you were accomplishing so much more than your neighbors by your own strength.

But you aren't.

You are doing it partly out of the forbearance and endurance of the members of your family who have to tolerate you when you come back from your office a nervous wreck.

You don't think so?

We'll say you have had a hard day and you go home in such a nervous condition that every sound disturbs you and if someone drops something on the floor or stumbles over the rug, you feel personally affronted.

Before you have been in your house half an hour your whole family begins to get into your state of mind.

It is inevitable. No disease is more contagious than nervousness. Your state charges the very atmosphere with nerves.

Now, when you remember such evenings—and there are few overwrought businessmen but have them to remember—can you still think that you supplied the energy for your day's work at the office all by yourself, or will you admit that it also cost your family something?

All work beyond what we can do pleasantly and healthily is evil.

Some of us are driven by necessity to work beyond our strength and dispositions.

Then the evil is not our fault.

With others the driving force is merely undue ambition.

Then it is our own fault.

If you think I put too strongly all this, please listen to what Robert Louis Stevenson, the believer in the gospel of sweet temper, has to say of the man who tries to do more than he can do pleasantly:

"Either he absents himself entirely from all fellowship and lives a recluse in a garret, with carpet slippers and a leaden jacket, or he comes among people swiftly and bitterly, in contraction of his whole nervous system, to discharge some temper before he returns to work. I do not care how much or how well he works. This is an evil feature in other people's lives. They would be happier if he were dead."

MISS ANGELINA PULLIS.

FORMER VAUDEVILLE STAR BECOMES BRIDE OF WIDOWED PASTOR.

St. Louis, Mo.—The engagement of the Rev. Dr. Edmund Duckworth, rector of St. James Episcopal church, one of the leading St. Louis clergymen, and Miss Angelina Pullis, formerly a star in the dramatic world, will be announced in a few days. Miss Pullis is the daughter of Mrs. A. E. S. Pullis of 4328 Olive street.

Dr. Duckworth and Miss Pullis both declined yesterday to give the details of the date of the wedding.

The romance which is of considerable interest, both from the prominent position of Dr. Duckworth among the city clergymen and the dramatic reputation of Miss Pullis, gave out of their sympathetic interest in church affairs. Miss Pullis having since her retirement from the stage several years ago, energetically devoted herself to the work at St. James and became a potent and willing right hand to the rector in his ministerial duties. In matters of delicacy, befitting a woman's intuitive sympathy and perception.

CAN A MEDICINE BE A "FAKE"? That has lived and grown in popularity for thirty years, and demonstrated its worth by actual cures of female ailments in thousands and thousands of American families.

Any fair minded, intelligent person will emphatically answer NO! Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, and is ever increasing popular.

As a public speaker he is regarded as trenchant and original. His sermons, in their unusual point of view, have frequently attracted much attention.

Dr. Duckworth is a widower and has grown children.

Mrs. Quinn's Philosophy

"An' what do ye think about all this about women's votin', ma'am," asked Mrs. Quinn, with a chuckle, as I stopped ostensibly to ask a direction, but really to see that all was well with my cheerful friend.

Instead of imparting information I tried the Yankee trick of asking one. "What do you think of it yourself, Mrs. Quinn?"

"Well now, an old man came home last night and says he, 'here mother have a shingle,' says he. And when I says 'dude an' I'm too decent for the like of that' he grins and says, 'Why are ye no the apill of man,' says he. An' I says ye, that I am an' a date more quilled says I, like that. An' then he grins and says 'thim knowin' grins, that makes a woman mad inside, but cast as a warnin' that there's more comin' to try her temper. An' thim comin', it's like a wife who she gits a tight hold ay the devil ay a timper that most every woman has comin' about her somewhere, an' thim he says, says he, 'There was wan ay thim suffer get women come to the shop today an' began a tellin' us what basties we all were not to let the woman have their rights and says I, 'Ye old woman spindles all the money and has the last word every time, I says, an' what more will ye be askin'?' An' she answers quick and hoots like 'that's all very well me man, an' perhaps ye have found that the only way ye can hope to get along is to have the natural head ay the house take charge, says she, but who does the votin'?" says she, 'an' who makes the laws' she says in a deep trembling voice. 'Ma'am, says she, 'ye all know women are by nature the apill and more a man an' yet ye say they're the proud pillars of the American citizenry?'

"What, I asks, did ye say to that?" "We," says he, "I said that as long as ye ran the house I thought the government could get along wid out ye." "We," he chuckles as if he had settled the question, ma'am, but had he? Not a bit ay it, for I said 'an' sure thim she is a right sensible woman,' says I, 'for if women had the governin' there would soon be a stop put to a lot ay things that go wrong now, an' he looks kinda dazed and says: 'We ma, are ye a sufferer yet?' I says 'no, he said, I am a sufferer, I say, but I'm the woman that suffers. I'm every toime an' for everything.' No, Tommy, says I, I am not a fakin' much but I am thinkin' ye let me I see that things will never be right for women, says I, 'thim she gits a hand at the cleanin' up,' says I, 'Sure we are the natural cleaners in this world, ma'am, an' it do be in me mind that the good Lord that makes all made the min to run the livin' and the whin to do the thinkin'?' 'What do ye think ma'am?' "I am more interested in knowin' what Tommy thought," I answered, laughing.

"Sure, ma'am, it was funny. He sat around dazed folk and kept shakin' his head and sayin' things under his breath, an' thim he broke out wid, 'What do ye know about votin' any way, ma'am?' an' I says if I were childin' headed min kin learn how to do it I am sure that most ay the women says I, 'An' thim he says, 'ye would do the cleanin' and kape the house?'

"An' I says, 'I've never yet known ye to miss a meal vittal for the votin' says I, an' sure I guess I could take time to cook 'em an' go want a year to the poles, says I, an' that was the last ay it ma'am, but he sure do look at me as if I was wan ay those new women, Tommy does."

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties.

Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tried and tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Inc., P.O. Box 539, Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Lingerie Frock.

After a tour of the shops, and especially through those devoted exclusively to children's wear, and after seeing the bewildering array of airy frocks displayed, one comes to wonder that vanity is implanted early in the female heart. These frocks run the gamut from severely plain little slips to the most elaborately embroidered and lace-trimmed dresses—all, however, having in common the one attribute of exquisite fineness. This little frock was only one of many and seems to strike a medium note. Fine batiste was made up in simple blouse fashion, with rather a long waist and a short, full skirt joined by a plain heading through which a narrow ribbon was threaded. The little yoke was hand embroidered and the neck and sleeves finished with narrow German Val.

AN OLD REMEDY

Beef, Iron and Wine is one of the good old remedies that has outlived a score of patent tonics, reasonable in price, a satisfactory tonic, appetizer and mild stimulant. There is nothing better for that tired, worried, listless feeling or run-down condition of the system after illness of any kind. It tones the whole system, stimulates digestion, gives you appetite, is a good iron tonic for weak, pale children or old people, for men of advanced age, and extracts or so-called wine of cod liver oil that depend upon their stimulants alone. Beef, Iron and Wine tones and sustains, it assists nature to recuperate, it's a food to the sick and nursing mothers.

Mr. Pfennig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, prepares our Beef, Iron and Wine. It's always fresh, made from the very best extract of beef, wholesome, properly aged, sherry wine and soluble iron.

We don't sell ready-made, hand-made, factory-manufactured Beef, Iron and Wine. We believe and know that medicine should be compounded only by the experienced and scientifically trained.

Try a bottle of our Beef, Iron and Wine as made by Mr. Pfennig. It's a full pint. Note its wholesome taste and invigorating effect. You will be more than satisfied. Get it at the Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts. The drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

In Its Worst Form Readily Yields to the Chiropractic Adjustment—Read This Testimonial.

"To Whom It May Concern: I suffered for thirteen years with Female Weakness, suffered as only a woman can appreciate, and, one year ago, my physician, after calling in another physician for consultation, told me that the only way to save my life was by an operation.

"I felt that I would rather die than submit to an operation, and hearing of the success which Dr. Puiddicombe was having in Chiropractic adjustment was prevailed on to let him attempt a cure in my case. Though doubtful at first I must now say that he has made me perfectly well from my trouble and I would advise any woman who suffers as I did to 'dose' no more. In calling on the Chiropractor and becoming well, as I do believe this science is the most wonderful ever known. I will cheerfully answer any letter from suffering women who write me and enclose a stamp." Mrs. L. B. Rose, R. R. No. 7, Rockford, Ill.

FRIDAY'S MEETING
MOST IMPORTANT

BUSINESS MEN OF THE CITY INTERESTED IN MOVEMENT.

MAY BRING THE RESULTS

Call for Mass Meeting Issued by Committee Having Matter in Charge Issued Today.

A meeting of subscribers to the proposed new Commercial club will be held at the city hall, Friday evening, January 28th, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of organization. A splendid representation of the city's business interests is shown in the subscription signatures and with the formation of a booster organization, the employment of a permanent secretary, we can accomplish much for the good of Janesville. Your advice and co-operation will do much to round out this proposition. Please make it a special point to be present.

—Subscription Committee.

"The above notice means much to the city of Janesville and its future prosperity and welfare. It is expected that at the meeting called matters of effecting a permanent organization, electing officers and preparing for an active campaign to promote the interests of the city will be decided upon. Janesville is ripe for an organization composed of the business men of the city whose object is the general upbuilding of the city, the promotion of new industries, and interest in present home industries. It has been planned that a permanent secretary be employed whose sole business will be to look after the interests of the city. This plan, however, is not to be approved by the men who have signed the subscription papers which have been circulated and which show that the sum of over four thousand dollars has already been pledged for this purpose."

It is hoped that all persons who signed the subscription blanks will be present, as well as those interested, so as to make the perfecting of the organization an accomplished fact to-morrow night and prevent any further delay.

There never has been a time in the history of Janesville when such a representative list of citizens have shown their desire to see the best interests of the city handled in a proper manner as at the present time. The list of signers contains the names of business and professional men and manufacturers all interested in the idea of making Janesville the leading city of southern Wisconsin.

There is no reason why Janesville should not be an ideal location for the establishment of new manufacturing and the advancement of those already in operation. Janesville today sends its manufactured articles to all parts of the country and even to foreign countries, and with a permanent secretary whose sole duty is to promote the interests of the factories already here and seek new ones, there is no limit to what may be accomplished.

MEETING OF FAIR ASS'N STOCKHOLDERS

Business Session of Evansville Fair Association Held Yesterday Afternoon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, Ind., Jan. 26.—The stockholders of the Evansville Fair Association assembled again in the city hall this afternoon to complete unfinished business. They heard and accepted the reports of the auditing committee and secretary, September 8 to 9, inclusive, was selected as the date for holding the fair of 1910. This session was followed by a meeting of the stockholders. Everett Van Patton and W. W. Clifton, who have served as president and secretary respectively, refused to be re-elected and Frank Wynn was chosen president and the office of secretary is yet to be filled. The meeting then adjourned until next Saturday.

The Misses Hazel and Lora North entertained about twenty guests last evening at a kitchen shower, at which Miss Ruth Hendricks was the guest of honor. Each guest was requested to bring her trinkets and soon every one was busily engaged making useful gifts which were presented to the bride-to-be as souvenirs of the occasion. Near the close of a delightful evening refreshments were served, violets forming the principal decoration of the table.

William Heron is moving into the home recently vacated by J. Zwolnick on Liberty street and Geo. Acheson will move next week into the home which he recently bought, and which Mr. Heron has been occupying.

Frank Atkins has returned from Lancaster, where he has been installing a new heating plant in a large hotel which is being built there.

Miss Stella Mages was hostess at a five hundred party at her home last evening.

Miss Charity Whison spent Tuesday at the home of Miss Hannah Day.

Carl Catlin of the Catlin Investment Co. of Miles City, Montana, visited at the home of Rev. T. W. North, Monday.

Mr. Eva Quivey has been ill for several days.

James Roby of Plattville is visiting Janesville relatives and friends.

Miss Sarah Campbell has returned to her home in Epworth, Iowa, having been with local relatives for several months.

Mrs. Charity Anderson has been very sick for the past few days.

Isaac Sherman has loaned his farm near Holleville to Robert Hubbard, who goes tomorrow to take possession.

About thirty friends and neighbors pleasantly surprised Will Eddy last Saturday evening at his home near Shopleys. Progressive club and other guests were the order of the evening, after which the guests departed, feeling that they had spent a most delightful evening.

TOOK PHOTOGRAPHS AT AVIATION MEET

Dr. C. C. Dwight of This City Made Trip to Los Angeles Solely for That Purpose—Has Fine Series.

Reproduced herewith are two photographs, depicting two of the actors and one of the incidents in the great ed flight in which it was partially damaged.

Although the attendance in place at the conservative figure of 20,000, there were only about seventy officials and others allowed on the inner flight and it was by the exercise of a good deal of diplomacy that Dr. Dwight was able to secure this privilege. It is doubtful, in spite of the number of photographers, professional and amateur, who were present, if a better series of photographs were secured.

LOUIS PAULHAN, "THE FRENCH BIRD MAN," AND MRS. "DICK" FERRIS, THE FIRST WESTERN WOMAN TO FLY.

acrobatic contest recently held in Los Angeles, Cal., of which Dr. Corydon G. Dwight of this city has a series of remarkable photographs. Dr. Dwight made the long trip to the Pacific coast simply for the purpose of securing some of the principal actors and the sensational flights. That his journey was amply justified can be proved by a glance at his collection of photographs.

From every standpoint, the meet, which was held under the auspices of the Los Angeles Aero club, is among the most notable flying contests ever held, both in point of attendance and achievements. A portion of the monster assemblage, packed into the grand stand, can be seen in one of the pictures.

VIEW OF A PORTION OF THE GREAT ASSEMBLAGE AT AVIATION FIELD, AND PAULHAN AEROPLANE JUST LEAVING THE EARTH FOR A FLIGHT

It also shows the Paulhan aeroplane just getting under way for a flight. The other picture is a likeness of Louis Paulhan, the French "Bird Man," and Mrs. Richard Ferris, wife of the president of the Los Angeles Aero club, the first western woman to fly.

Other photographs show Carlisle in his sixty horse-power bi-plane, flying at the rate of sixty-two miles an hour; Paulhan flying forty-five miles an hour and carrying two passengers; Paulhan in a Farman biplane flying 3,100 feet in the air; a close view of the mechanism of Paulhan's forty horse-power engine, showing the motor that revolves with the propeller; Roy Knudsen and his cutting horse for a race, and a view of the inner field, showing Knudsen's monoplane, "The Butterfly," which could not fly and which is shown just after an attempt.

and still that is what the rural carriers from the Janesville postoffice are doing every day.

The rules of the postoffice department do not require them, however, to travel through snow drifts in unbroken roads, and in many cases the roads are not broken for them as they should be. Every possible effort is made to make delivery of mail, but where a pathfinder fails to do his duty in the matter of opening the roads the carrier is sometimes compelled to abandon a part of his route until the road is opened.

The rural carriers of the Janesville office report that on nearly every route there are to be found some pathfinders who are inclined to shirk their duty in this respect, and in many instances the carriers have made delivery to their routes when they would have been justified under the rule in turning back and reporting to the postmaster that they could not serve the route because of impassable roads. In such cases the carriers do not lose their pay, as many of the residents of the rural districts seem to think; so that the failure on the part of rural patrons, and pathfinders, to keep the roads open can only result in temporary suspension of service.

"It is really most remarkable," said a postal authority today, "that after the authorization of rural delivery service generally throughout the country by congress, and the establishment of the routes by the department, and the operation at a loss, as shown by the recent report of the postmaster general, of over $2,000,000 annually, all for the benefit of the farming population, there are to be found scattered here and there upon the routes men who are so unappreciative of the splendid advantages thus afforded them that they will not even help in keeping the roads open so the rural carriers can get through. I have had to take the matter up personally, by telephone and otherwise, with several pathfinders. In order to get little stretches of road, sometimes not more than half a mile long, broken sufficiently to permit the carrier to pass through. As a general thing, I believe the residents of the rural districts appreciate the benefit of their mail delivery, but unfortunately, during a season of heavy snow such as we have experienced this winter, one unappreciative pathfinder on a route, who fails to do his duty, may keep half of the patrons on that route from receiving their mail. Our carriers have experienced a great deal of difficulty this winter and I must say for them that considering what they find to contend with they have performed remarkable service."

SYRIANS GLAD THEY HAVE SECURED THEIR CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

Syrians and Armenians Now Coming to America No Longer Granted Rights of Citizenship.

Syrians in this city, and there are seven of them who have been granted citizenship papers, are now rejoicing over their possessions, as, according to a recent United States court decision, their brethren who now seek the rights as citizens will be refused them. In granting citizenship papers to foreigners who come to this country, the bureau of immigration is a great deal puzzled as to who shall receive them and who shall not. In some cases it is a case where black is white and white is yellow or some other color. A man may have a white skin and yet not be classed as a white man.

The perplexing question comes up in connection with the citizenship laws of the country. Unfortunately, the laws covering the subject are not laid or comprehensively, and courts have to consider legal opinions by other tribunals in adjudicating them. Wherefore it comes to pass that a Syrian or Turk, who is as white as a native born American, is denied citizenship and classed as an "Asiatic."

A Spaniard, with swarthy skin and black hair, is given citizenship papers, but a Hindu, with skin as light as the free born American, is held not to be a "white man," and denied participation in the privileges of American citizenship.

And so it happens that something over half of the people in the United States at this moment aren't eligible to naturalization.

Some of the weird anomalies of the law and court decisions on the citizenship statutes make it possible for the blackest African—no matter how uneducated or aboriginal he may be—to become a citizen, while the well educated Japanese, Chinese, Japanese, Turks, Hindus, and Syrians are denied this privilege. The African gets the privilege because of a special "enabling provision" tacked on to the statute book soon after the civil war.

Most of the courts have held to the geographical distribution of races—meaning that the African was black, the Asiatic, yellow; the European, white; and the original American, red. They have discarded the theory that the Aryans now living in Palestine, Asia Minor, and certain other parts of Asia, the "cradle of the Caucasians"—are the purest blooded of all the white people now extant. Thus, a Syrian, whose people for untold generations have not assimilated foreign blood, and who is logically the purest of Aryan stock, is held by the courts to be a member of the yellow race—simply because he comes from a part of Asia.

The Syrians and Armenians in this country are now at work conducting a campaign for recognition of their race in America. An organization of the foremost of the race has been formed at New York, and it is not unlikely that congress will this winter be besieged by the committee's petitioning for a change in the court's rulings, or definite legislation on the subject of citizenship.

Dupuy watched the effect of Bartelmy's words on Nolan with intense eagerness. It was an anxious moment for both Dupuy and Bartelmy. If Nolan accepted the fact that they were safe, as for Nolan, he was greatly perplexed. He wanted to accept the proffer, both for his own sake and for his family's. Membership in the Oak Door club was equivalent to a ticket of admission into the fashionable circles of the city. He would be able then to put his wife and daughter in the way of gratifying their desires. Sylvester, too, would be benefited in whatever business career he should take up, and the membership would enable him to meet and make his personal friends the most prominent men of the city—the men he naturally craved to associate with on terms of equality. Then he spoke:

"Heavily, Judge," he said warmly, "that's something that I never expected to hear from your lips."

"Not at all; not at all! I shall be delighted to put you up, and Dupuy will second me."

"With pleasure," bowed the lawyer. Nolan hesitated over his final reply. He remembered what Brand had stated regarding the attentions of Judge Bartelmy and his daughter. Probably this offer was a trick, a bribe, and it did not improve the situation to have Dupuy brought into it by the jurist as a second of his nomination. Still, the idea came into his head—if he accepted it he did it with his eyes open; he need not necessarily change the policy of the Advance toward certain public men. Thus he reasoned, and still there lingered within him an insidious desire, even a prompting, in view of the advantages for himself and his family, to accept at all hazards, under any circumstances.

"Thank you, gentlemen, thank you," he said, temporizing. In an endeavor to gain time before actually committing himself. He glanced across the room at Wheeler Brand, wondering how he was accepting the situation. Brand took a quick step forward, straightened himself and shot a glance of warning over the shoulder of Bartelmy, whose back was turned to him. Nolan nodded his head slightly to show that he understood. Dupuy caught the interchange of signals, and he glared malignantly at the young managing editor. He saw that Brand would do his utmost to swing Nolan away from the subtle snare. Nolan addressed the judge, "I'll think it over—and thank you once more."

Bartelmy and Dupuy started toward a door.

"Now, if you will excuse us, Dupuy and I will join the ladies," said the jurist. "Wheeler, you're not going away yet, eh?" he added.

Brand moved toward the hall door and ignored the query.

"What's your hurry, Wheeler?" asked Nolan as Bartelmy and Dupuy disappeared.

"Oh, it's time to get back to the office."

"H-m! What's the trouble?"

"What's the use of talking about it?"

"Come, get it off your chest."

"I don't have to tell you, Mr. Nolan."

"Do draw closer to his employer."

"You think Miss Nolan is going back on you—don't that?"

The young man's voice rang out in his deep disappointment that Nolan was lingering on the verge of an acceptance of Bartelmy's offer, which could mean only two things: if his employer yielded, and these were the muzzling of the Advance and the silencing of Brand as long as he remained on the paper. He blamed Nolan utterly for failing to spurn the offer outright on the moment.

"Do you think you can accept favors from Bartelmy with one hand," he cried, "and knife him with the other?"

Nolan gave a spirited but kindly reply:

"Hold your horses, Wheeler. You know I don't care anything about this social stunt for myself. It doesn't fit into my life, but remember I've got a family, and nothing comes ahead of them. Mother and I may have a lun-chance now and then; but, after all, we have been side partners for a good many years. And my girl! There isn't a finer educated or a prettier girl in New York, and she ought to be able to go anywhere, but she can't in this town—this cold man's town. Then, of course, there's Sylvester. I know he isn't as bright as he might be, and I've spent—well, more than twice your salary trying to get him through freshman year at Harvard, and I couldn't, but still he's my son, and if he wants to run around with these other sports, why not? I can afford it, and I guess the kid's got to sow his wild oats any way. My wife and children ought to be happy with the money I've got, and, as I figure it, if I join this Oak Door club I can help them to get what they want. Do you follow me, Brand?"

"Yes; I understand," sighed Brand. "At first you took up the side of the people, and you are continuing at it. But you and your family have become ambitious, or, at least, so far as you are concerned, you are ambitious for them. When you begin to associate familiarly with rich men as their friend you'll soon find yourself playing golf or billiards with one, drinking whiskey with another, and your son will marry the daughter of a third. You will forget all about the people. Your paper will become decadent and feeble. The circulation will dry up." He paused for breath and added warningly in strong tones, "The Advance is now at its zenith, but its decline begins the very day that you are elected to the Oak Door club."

Nolan reached over and seized Brand by the shoulder.

"Wheeler, you're a decent sort of a fellow. I like you and the things you've made the paper stand for, but you don't know what it means to put people that you love on the altar and cause them suffering for the sake of these—these general principles."

"Don't!" exclaimed the young editor. "Well, that's exactly what I've done. I gave up the girl I loved, who had promised to be my wife, so that I might write the truth." In spite of the emotion which his words had aroused in him Brand's voice never faltered as he spoke.

"You did?" exclaimed Nolan amazedly. "Well, my boy, I don't understand you. I couldn't do that," he confessed.

"Don't think that it was easy for me to do. I've thought of her every hour of every day since, but she's now his voice wavered—"well, she's forgotten, so it doesn't matter. Mr. Nolan, do you remember what it was that first brought us together?"

"Yes; that story about Judge Bartelmy, and it was a good one, and you've followed it up with a lot of good ones since. Why, Wheeler, there isn't a man in the country that can work up a series like you can. But, do you know, I'm beginning to think that the judge is not all bad. Mind you, I'm not forgetting old scores, but—" he seated himself—"old you ever think of it, perhaps we haven't all the facts of that affair? Some things have happened. Are you sure that he's so all-fired wrong?"

"Mr. Nolan, the half hasn't been told about Judge Bartelmy," cried Brand.

"Well, this is getting to be a pretty serious affair. We can't be too sure about our facts."

"Mr. Nolan, Judge Bartelmy is not only a dishonest judge, but he seems to have a destructive influence on every one near him. He's corrupt and corrupting, not only in his public but in his private life."

"Wasn't wasn't it his daughter that you were engaged to?"

"Yes, it was, and he's using her just as he did her mother before her."

"You amaze me. What do you mean?"

Brand took a deep breath.

"Why, he surrounded her mother with machine politicians and shady financiers and crooked lawyers. He sent her to the state capital when he wanted to be senator, but it was impossible; to Washington when he wanted to be minister to France, and she failed, and again when he wanted to be judge, and she succeeded, and when she found out that he was using his judicial office to steal and that she had only been a lobbyist for his rotten schemes!"

"Well, it killed her, Mr. Nolan, and now he's using his daughter in the same way. He's filling his house with corporation jackals like Dupuy. He sends her here to muzzle you by working on your wife and daughter. He hates me, but he would let her marry me to have his enemy in the family and make him silent."

"Why don't you go to the girl and tell her?" suggested the newspaper owner.

"About her mother and why she died?"

"Well, perhaps not. But I hope you won't follow the Bartelmy story any further. I'll be just as well pleased."

"I've got to follow it, Mr. Nolan. I can't stop," ejaculated Brand. "I've got the goods on him now. I've got a story that will drive him off the bench when we print it."

"What?" half rising.

"True; every word of it." Brand paced nervously across the room.

"For God's sake, Wheeler, don't go off at half cock!" cried Nolan.

"Half cock! Why, I tell you I've got the facts. I've been working on it for months."

"Now, listen to me. You're a young man. In spite of what you say about him I know that in his public life he's mighty well thought of by some of the most prominent men in this city, and—"

weakly—"well, if they believe in him I don't see why—"

"Will nothing—"

"Don't go off at half cock."

"I'll be just as well pleased."

"I've got to follow it, Mr. Nolan. I can't stop," ejaculated Brand. "I've got the goods on him now. I've got a story that will drive him off the bench when we print it."

Sense in This Prescription. The prescription, "do not open your mouth until you know exactly what you want to say," will cure a lot of things besides stuttering.

The Optimist's Corner Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

"Low spirits" is one excuse for much selfishness. It is doubtful whether anyone has a right to be melancholy in a world so full of joy, where there is so much to live for; besides, it is a miserable piece of egotism to thrust one's low spirits upon others. The selfish idler is condemned by everyone, but the one who wastes his time groaning and complaining until he becomes a chronic hypochondriac, is a hard worker from the trouble he takes to find trouble.

The best prescription for depression of spirits generally is work—work which is all absorbing, not work hunting for trouble. One way of paralyzing our faculties is to allow them to waste with disease. Employment keeps away the rust. It keeps the mind and heart alive to the interest of the day. Many old men break down and become childlike because they abandon business, and thus lose much of their every-day interest in the world around them. It is not uncommon for old people to take up courses of study and successfully pass through them. All such occupations serve to keep the interest alive in something besides mere selfishness, and do more toward warding off "the blues" than all the medicines in the drug stores.

Book Farming Pays. The old-time farmers used to laugh at the book farmer, who studied the earth and the products thereof scientifically, but here is a professor leaving an agricultural college with a salary of $2,000 to take the management of a farm with a salary of $3,000. And he will probably make good, too. There is a lot of farming in books, and the man who is willing to admit it will make the most money out of his farm.

Principle Long Known. Two centuries ago the principle of the taxicab was known. An advertisement in the London Daily Courant of January 13, 1711, announces that at the sign of the Seven Stars, under the piazza of Covent garden, a chariot was on view that would travel without horses and "measure the miles as it goes." It was capable of turning and reversing, and "could go uphill as easily as on level ground."

Book Farming Pays. The old-time farmers used to laugh at the book farmer, who studied the earth and the products thereof scientifically, but here is a professor leaving an agricultural college with a salary of $2,000 to take the management of a farm with a salary of $3,000. And he will probably make good, too. There is a lot of farming in books, and the man who is willing to admit it will make the most money out of his farm.

Principle Long Known. Two centuries ago the principle of the taxicab was known. An advertisement in the London Daily Courant of January 13, 1711, announces that at the sign of the Seven Stars, under the piazza of Covent garden, a chariot was on view that would travel without horses and "measure the miles as it goes." It was capable of turning and reversing, and "could go uphill as easily as on level ground."

Sense in This Prescription. The prescription, "do not open your mouth until you know exactly what you want to say," will cure a lot of things besides stuttering.

The Optimist's Corner Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

"Low spirits" is one excuse for much selfishness. It is doubtful whether anyone has a right to be melancholy in a world so full of joy, where there is so much to live for; besides, it is a miserable piece of egotism to thrust one's low spirits upon others. The selfish idler is condemned by everyone, but the one who wastes his time groaning and complaining until he becomes a chronic hypochondriac, is a hard worker from the trouble he takes to find trouble.

The best prescription for depression of spirits generally is work—work which is all absorbing, not work hunting for trouble. One way of paralyzing our faculties is to allow them to waste with disease. Employment keeps away the rust. It keeps the mind and heart alive to the interest of the day. Many old men break down and become childlike because they abandon business, and thus lose much of their every-day interest in the world around them. It is not uncommon for old people to take up courses of study and successfully pass through them. All such occupations serve to keep the interest alive in something besides mere selfishness, and do more toward warding off "the blues" than all the medicines in the drug stores.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS

DELOIT

Beloit, Jan. 26.—Thomas Jones on the town line road sold a valuable colt which he delivered to Janesville last week. The colt was to be shipped to Iowa.

Mr. Dehling and son, Herman, were very pleasantly surprised on Monday night by two merry sleighloads of friends and relatives from Janesville to celebrate their birthdays. All spent a very pleasant evening, which passed only too quickly.

Arthur Jackson of Deloit was a caller on the town line road Sunday.

Bert Kellogg is beginning to improve after a very long illness. Dr. Thayer is attending him.

Will Waters of North Dakota visited on his old friend and schoolmate, Len McGee, Sunday and Monday.

Mark McGee spent Sunday in Deloit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eldredge spent Saturday and Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Myrtle McGee.

Dr. Perschbacher of Janesville was called to Tom Jones' farm on Wednesday.

Fred Eldredge and family spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Len McGee.

SIX CORNERS

Six Corners, Jan. 26.—The young men from this place won many valuable cash prizes at the corn exhibit in the county show at Milton last week.

Henry Gray and family of Milton were guests of Mrs. E. C. Gray last Sunday.

James and Lizzie White and Miss Dorr spent Tuesday evening with James and Nellie Monaghan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Gray are recovering from their recent attack of the grip. Mrs. Brown of Milton has been curing for them.

Mrs. E. C. Gray and son, Henry, were in attendance at Burns' anniversary Tuesday evening.

Miss Laura Bacon is improving from her recent illness.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, Jan. 27.—G. H. Howard has rented his farm east of the Corners, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Libby, to Mrs. Benton and son, Warren.

A number delivered stock at Caln Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Meely.

Fred Edwards of Janesville visited relatives Saturday and Sunday.

Herman Mat of Spring Valley was a visitor at the Corners Monday evening.

The Misses Lizzie and Frenda Foster spent Monday afternoon with Minnie and Cora Bishop.

George Baker of Spring Valley was a business caller Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mat and daughter, Lizzie, were Dredhead visitors on Thursday.

A number attended the meetings at Potville the past week.

SERIOUS RIOTS IN STEEL CAR STRIKE

Woman Is Shot In Fight Between Police and Foreign Strikers—Many Shots Fired.

Hammond, Ind., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Annie Hordak, a strike sympathizer, was shot in the shoulder when police fired into a crowd of rioting Slavs and Hungarians at the plant of the Standard Steel Car Company. The situation is becoming so grave that the police are about to ask assistance from Sheriff Grant in quelling the numerous riots engendered by the strikers.

Six hundred foreigners took part in the riot which occurred at the mill gates. Their attack was concentrated on the police who sought to disperse them. The strikers attempted to keep them. The Douglas out of the works. Many women were in the mob with iron bars, stove pipes, salt and pepper as weapons.

There were frequent clashes and both the police and strikers fired shots. It was one of these shots that went wild that hit the woman.

The strike has now lasted nearly two weeks and was started by men who came here from McKees Rocks, Pa.

About one thousand men are out on strike at present and the plant will close down.

DECLARE REPORT IS MISTAKE.

Publishers Say Postal Deficit Statement Is $60,000,000 in Error.

Washington, Jan. 27.—An error of $60,000,000 is charged by the Association of Magazine Publishers against the post office department in its statement of deficit in carrying second-class mail matter. This and other mistakes are alleged to be in the department's figures, upon which banks it is proposed to raise the rate for carrying magazines and periodicals through the mails.

Twenty-five leading magazine publishers appeared as representatives of the association before the house committee on post offices and post roads.

Frank H. Scott, president of the Century Company, said that any raise in the rates on second-class matter would affect not only the publishers, who themselves, he said, were by no means wealthy, but also the printers, paper manufacturers, advertisers, authors, artists and many millions of readers of magazines.

With these people the publishers would be compelled to adjust the increased burden laid upon them, he declared. It would result in greatly increasing the prices of magazines to subscribers, said Mr. Scott.

INQUIRY COMMITTEE PUZZLED.

Hears Evidence But Unable to Determine Exact Charges Against Ballinger.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The trial of the Roosevelt policies by the Ballinger-Mitchell investigating committee began with L. R. Glavis, the accusing witness, against Secretary of the Interior Ballinger on the stand.

For three hours a joint committee of congress, composed of six senators and six representatives, heard his statement and opening of his attorney, Louis B. Brandeis of Boston.

The committee adjourned to Friday with a haze of what the charges against Ballinger are, how long it will take to sift them and what form the hearings are going to take in the future to clear up the controversy.

POOR ECONOMY.

One of the requests for a patent received in the patent office of Germany was for a device for making one's own matches. With the aid of it, anyone can, by five hours' work, save six or seven cents!

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK LIKELY.

Senate Committee Will Have Bill Ready to Report Friday.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The postal savings bank bill providing depositors for savings at interest with the security of the government for their repayment, will be favorably reported to the senate from the committee on post offices and post roads Friday.

A long session of the committee was held after the general features of the proposition were agreed upon and the matter was referred to a subcommittee consisting of Senators Carter, Dilliver and Owen for final review.

As agreed upon many of the details set out in Mr. Carter's bill will be eliminated. Only distinct principles of law will be placed in the measure and the details of the management of the savings will be left to the board of trustees, to consist of the secretary of the treasury, the postmaster general and the attorney general.

ASQUITH ELECTED AND MOBBED.

British Premier Is Attacked by Band of Suffragettes.

London, England, Jan. 27.—Premier Asquith, for the past division of five, and Richard B. Haldane, for Haddingtonshire, have been re-elected to parliament, but while the prime minister returns with a substantial increase of 615 over his former majority, the secretary of state for war must be satisfied with a majority less by 425 than that in 1906.

Following the election of Asquith, the premier was mobbed by militant suffragettes. The women in a body charged time after time in their attempt to reach the minister and there were several lively skirmishes with the police before Mr. Asquith was conveyed to a place of safety.

SPEEDS AT 70 MILES AN HOUR.

Paulhan Attains High Altitude in His Biplane.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—Driving his big Farman biplane at a maximum speed of 70 miles an hour, Louis Paulhan, the French aviator, sailed over the heads of 40,000 people at Tan Foran park in a sensational and spectacular flight that lasted 31 minutes and 30 seconds and proved himself a king of the sky.

At one time while speeding so fast that the treacherous currents of the air did not send a visible tremor through the soaring plane, Paulhan attained an altitude of more than 1,300 feet.

Real Cleverness.

A man is really clever if he can make you like an old story when he tells it.

NO BACKACHE OR KIDNEY MISERY AFTER TAKING JUST A FEW DOSES

Your Out-of-order Kidneys Will Act Fine Ending the Most Severe Bladder Trouble.

The most effective and harmless way to cure backache and regulate out-of-order kidneys, or even bladder trouble, is to take several doses of Pape's Diuretic.

You will distinctly feel that your kidneys and urinary organs are being cleaned, healed and vitalized, and all the miserable symptoms, such as backache, headache, nervousness, rheumatism and darting pains, inflammation or swollen eyelids, irritability, sleeplessness, or suppressed, painful or frequent urination (especially at night) and other distresses, leaving after taking the first few doses.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder, or rheumatism, begin taking this harmless preparation as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Don't be miserable or worried another moment with a lame back or clogged, inactive kidneys or bladder misery. All this goes after you start taking Pape's Diuretic, and in few days you feel and know that your kidneys, liver and urinary system are healthy, clean and normal, and all danger passed.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

REFUSE TO AID DYING CHILD.

Druggists Will Not Sell Whisky Even on Prescription.

Provo, Utah, Jan. 27.—The druggists of this city having entered into an agreement among themselves neither to sell nor give away liquor for sixty days, T. J. Smith was unable to procure whisky or brandy declared by a physician to be necessary to save the life of Smith's 2-year-old son. The child died of pneumonia. The prescription which the apothecaries refused to fill was indorsed by the president of the city council and one of the councilmen.

South Dakota Editors in Session.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Jan. 27.—The annual mid-winter meeting of the South Dakota Press association opened here today. The editors were called to order by Charles M. Day of the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, who delivered his annual address. "The Soldier's Story" was the subject of a paper by Harry Wentz, of the Press-Reporter, Hurkman, who was arrested while traveling in Germany during the summer and held for military duty. Others on the two-day program are T. W. Taubman of the Plankinton Herald, H. A. Sturgess of the Bessford Republic, and F. E. Ellick of Omaha. The local newspaper men will take the editors to theaters to-night and tomorrow night, and they will be shown the twin and shirt industry at the state penitentiary.

WOULD BAR SPEAKER CANNON.

House Resolution by Fowler to Change Rules Committee.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Representative Fowler of New Jersey, one of the house insurgents, introduced a resolution to add five new members to the rules committee, giving the majority six members and the minority three, and to removing the speaker from the committee. The resolution was referred to the rules committee.

By a viva voce vote the Mann "white slave" bill was passed by the house practically as introduced by the Chicago man.

Oldest Actress Is Hurt.

New York, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Sol Smith, the actress, was hurt, but it is believed not seriously, when an automobile collided with the taxicab in which she was riding. Mrs. Smith is the oldest actress on the American stage. She will be eighty years old on March 19.

During the last years I was in parliament I came in contact with 60 master minds, and all but five of them were Christians.—Gladstone.

The ends of the electrodes are baked by means of electric heating coils and the process is a continuous one.

Strange Diet Advocated.

Some years ago in Albany, N. Y., a member of a distinguished family gave a rat luncheon. The rats had been fattened in a granary, or was it a malt house? Then there is the entomologist in France, the enthusiast who has published a cook book containing only recipes for preparing insects for the table. He recommends especially a cockroach soup.

Mr. Maniot—Isn't this sad?

Mr. Maniot—What?

Mr. Maniot—Why, poor Mr. Lunias has gone sane!

Little Lessons in Publicity No. 4

Arthur Brisbane says, "Reputation is Reptition." The good qualities of your product will be made known to their friends by satisfied users.

Rather slow work, though, when advertising in Daily Newspapers will tell everybody in a day.

Your story repeated thousands of times in a few hours at a lower cost than any other method. Daily Newspaper reptition will make your reputation.

Ask any general advertising agent or the publisher of this paper for suggestions.

AT THE ASYLUM.

Improved Electric Arc Lamp.

In a new form of electric arc lamp the carbons are formed and supplied as combined. The lamp is provided with two receptacles in which the plastic material is placed and this is fed through tubes to form the two electrodes of the arc. The ends of the electrodes are baked by means of electric heating coils and the process is a continuous one.
